Note: These dates are questionably high, but they are widely accepted by those who believe in evolution. It is helpful to see a chart that shows how long some say it took for man to realize that he isn't an ape anymore.

200k 100k 30k 6k 200,000 YEARS AGO FOR 194,000 YEARS, MAN WAS 6,000 YEARS AGO MAN-APE BECAME MAN AS DUMB AS A BRAN FLAKE BEGAN TO THINK

All this innovation happened within 3 thousand years, even using the old earth dating methods. What did we do for 97% of our history? Apes can apply crayons to rock. It isn't rocket science to learn how to plant seeds in rows.

NOTABLE QUOTES FROM WRITTEN HISTORY:

"For the Egyptians [...] say, Egypt is the only country in the whole inhabited world where there are many cities which were founded by the first gods, such as Zeus, Helius, Hermes, Apollo, Pan, Eileithyia, and many more." ~ Diodorus

"They said that the temple [of Hercules] was built at the same time that [Tyre] was founded, ... 2,300 years ago." ~ Herodotus

"When Hecataeus ... traced his descent to a god in the person of his sixteenth ancestor, the priests of Jupiter ... showed [him] a multitude of colossal statues ... which they counted up [to 345] ... refusing to allow that any man was ever born of a god. ... However, in the times anterior to them it was otherwise; then Egypt had gods for its rulers, who dwelt upon the earth with men, one being always supreme above the rest. The last of these was Horus, the son of Osiris, called by the Greeks Apollo." ~ Herodotus

CONCLUSION:

The foundations of temples were dates known to the priests. The gods to whom the temples were built were on the earth at known times. Mankind seems to have sprung onto the scene all at once.
